Claim 1 (amended). A method of predicting the lymphotropic metastatic potential of a solid non-lymphoid primary tumor, the method comprising obtaining a plurality of representative samples of the tumor and determining for at least one product selected from the group consisting of TCR β , CD3, CD4, CD8, and ZAP-70 the percentage of cells of each of the samples which express said at least one product [lymphoid gene products], wherein the metastatic potential of the tumor is predicted to be low when no tumor cells in all of the samples are detected to express said at
